OPEN LETTER

TO: The Citizens of Cuyahoga County

The Honorable Thomas Moyer
Chief Justice, The Supreme Court of Ohio

The Honorable Jimmy Dimora
The Honorable Timothy F. Hagan
The Honorable Peter Lawson Jones
Commissioners of Cuyahoga County

The Honorable Thomas Stickrath
Director, Ohio Department of Youth Services

FROM: The Honorable Joseph F. Russo, Administrative Judge
Cuyahoga County Juvenile Court

As I reflect on the activities, endeavors, and accomplishments of the Cuyahoga County Juvenile Court over the past year, I am firmly convinced of the commitment to our mission statement that my fellow jurists and staff continue to demonstrate. There are a host of programming and accreditation initiatives that were implemented in 2006 with great success, each contributing to the rehabilitation of youth, the strengthening of families, and the effective promotion of public safety.

After many months of vigorous effort and planning, our detention center staff, under the guidance of Mr. Len Munks, Superintendent, achieved full accreditation for our detention facility by the American Correctional Association. The ACA auditors determined our center complied with 100% of the forty-three mandatory standards and 97% of the one hundred forty-seven non-mandatory standards. These are the highest scores ever achieved by our detention center, and provide solid evidence to the community that our detention center, even with its structural limitations, is nationally recognized as a quality operation.

OPEN LETTER

At the same time, the Court received over $240,000 in grants from local foundations to expand our Educational Disability Protocol. A large percentage of youth entering secure detention are faced with learning disability issues which might otherwise have gone undetected. These funds allow us to screen residents in secure detention for learning disabilities and follow through with appropriate referrals to their home school districts.

The Juvenile Court Diagnostic Clinic is a vital link in providing the judges, magistrates and counsel with important data regarding psychiatric and psychological factors affecting juveniles and their families. Court administration, in conjunction with the director's staff at the Department of Children and Family Services, entered into a contract which provides the Juvenile Court with $200,000 of additional funds to expand the services provided at the Diagnostic Clinic. Four clinicians were added to the staff to increase our ability to interview clients and families, enhance our diversity of staff, and purchase computer software to allow for the preparation of reports in an expedited fashion.

Another initiative targeted for expansion was our in-school probation program. There are now a total of four high schools within the City of Cleveland that have a probation officer specifically assigned to young probationers. This program is highly successful in addressing truancy and encouraging youth to meet all the terms of probation successfully. Additionally, it promotes youth participation in extracurricular activities. The daily contact this program features has made significant progress in the reduction of recidivism for the targeted population.

Our Probation Department focused on gender specific programming as a goal for 2006. As a result, the Juvenile Court now has a series of workshops specifically geared to the unique needs of female offenders. The workshops address issues proven through research to be of major significance to female youth and include building healthy relationships, body image and self-esteem, decision-making and anger management. Funding for this initiative is made possible through TANF (Temporary Assistance for Needy Families) dollars and the results so far are very promising.

Additionally, each female youth placed on probation now meets with a specialist to complete an assessment called a GRAD (Global Risk Assessment Device) covering eleven domains of life functioning. An individualized plan is formulated, connecting each youth with appropriate community based services. The probation officer then monitors the progress and assists the youth in completion of the specific interventions. This is an exciting and promising project that should enhance our ability to accurately target the rehabilitation needs of female offenders.

OPEN LETTER

Although still in the development stages, the Cuyahoga County Juvenile Court is on schedule to implement a new case management system in the coming year. In cooperation with the Board of Cuyahoga County Commissioners, funding is approved to include data and file imaging capabilities to virtually eliminate paper filings in the coming year.

I am proud to state that an agreement reached with the Board of Cuyahoga County Commissioners this year will allow for the construction of a new courthouse and detention center at East 93 and Quincy Avenue in Cleveland, Ohio. The consolidation of operations from the present multiple locations into one facility represents a tremendous opportunity to further improve services to the citizens of our county.

As the year 2006 came to a close, my friend and colleague Judge John W. Gallagher retired from the Juvenile Court bench. Judge Gallagher was always a tireless and avid supporter of the work of this Court, and he will be missed by all.

Along with the report of our achievements, I hereby submit, in compliance with the Ohio Revised Code Section 2151.18, the 2006 Annual Report of the Cuyahoga County Juvenile Court concerning the number and kinds of cases before it, their dispositions, and other data pertaining to the work of the Court.

Respectfully,

Honorable Joseph F. Russo
Administrative Judge, 2006

PROBATION SERVICES

The Probation Department of the Cuyahoga County Juvenile Court administers services which include: probation investigation and supervision, community service, school based probation, Day Reporting , Multi-Systemic Therapy Program, Female Offender Program, and the Parent Project. What follows are Probation Services highlights from selected Probation Department programs.

BEHAVIORAL JUVENILE JUSTICE GRANT (BHJJ)

In the spring of 2006 the Court and its systems partners, the Cuyahoga County Community Mental Health Board, the Alcohol and Drug Addiction Services Board of Cuyahoga County and the Family and Children First Council, were awarded a grant by the State of Ohio to provide intensive services to female offenders with co-occurring mental illness and substance abuse diagnoses. Beginning in the Fall of 2006 the Placement Aftercare Unit of the Probation Department began identifying and supervising the first of what would be thirty-one (31) females with co-occurring disorders. The services provided to this historically underserved population were: Wraparound Case Management, Multi-Systemic Therapy, Gender-Specific Day Reporting, In-Home Integrated Co-occurring Treatment, Intensive Outpatient Treatment, Short-Term Inpatient Treatment and Residential Treatment. Court Placement Aftercare Coordinators also provided an intensive level of Court supervision for these offenders. Of the thirty-one youth served in this program, none have been committed to the Ohio Department of Youth Services.

PLACEMENT AFTERCARE

Residential Placement is out-of-home therapeutic placement for youth needing the most intensive level of services. All of the facilities used by the Court are licensed by the State of Ohio and are staff secure. They provide intensive counseling and supervision 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Youth placed in residential treatment are typically youngsters who have not adjusted well to community-based services.

Removing a youth from his/her home is always a difficult decision. The Courts goal is to work with the youth and their families in the least restrictive environment and to make a placement out of the home only after community-based interventions have been unsuccessful.

Services in placement include but are not limited to: individual and/or group counseling, anger management, sex offender treatment, chemical dependency, and family counseling, mental health care, psychological, psychiatric and or medication evaluations and monitoring, educational services including special and or vocational education and GED preparation.

Upon discharge, the youth and family are provided with court aftercare supervision. Aftercare supervision is an intensive level of supervision that gradually gives the youth more freedom and responsibility. Aftercare planning begins before the youth is released from placement. During the early part of aftercare, the youth and family have weekly contact with a Court Placement/Aftercare Coordinator and are also involved with other specialized counseling specific to the needs of the youth and family. By the end of aftercare contact with the Court and system representatives occurs monthly and the family and youth have community supports and resources outside of the system. The hope is that these new supports and resources will prevent further system involvement in the future.

COMMUNITY SERVICE AND RESTITUTION PROGRAM

In 2006, the Community Services and Restitution Program offered a new service for juvenile probationers. This service focuses on job training and employment opportunities. The program in 2006 added two Employment Liaisons whose main function was to screen and select juvenile probationers interested in employment. Once those probationers were identified, they were referred to the County's Department of Justice Affairs who coordinated the employment assessment, training and referral services. Those probationers not enrolled in school were also offered GED studies. The minimum requirement included a probationer being at least 16 years of age and able to read at a 5th grade level. The Juvenile Court Liaisons maintain contact with both Justice Affairs and the probationers for the purpose of monitoring attendance, problem solving, and sharing the youths' progress with the probation officers. The Probation Department has been supportive, referring over 400 probationers to this project in 2006. This project was made possible from a U.S. Department of Labor Grant.

PROBATION SERVICES

FEMALE OFFENDER INITIATIVE

Recognizing that there has been an increasing number of juvenile female offenders placed on probation, it was determined that this pressing issue needed to be addressed with a multi-faceted approach. The focus was to develop a comprehensive array of gender-specific services. These initiatives underscored the value and the need for staff to receive related training.

The Cuyahoga County Probation Department's Female Offender Initiative began in 2005, through a Temporary Assistance to Needy Families (TSNF) grant from the Ohio Department of Jobs and Family Services Department of Employment and Family Services to implement this pilot initiative. This continuum involved a comprehensive assessment plan for juvenile female offenders, consultation, help for the girls to develop the awareness to identify their individual needs and to make use of their community resources.

All probation staff received training by a national consultant through a technical assistance grant funded by the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency (OJJDP). Other court staff as well as individuals from the community had the opportunity to participate in this training. Probation managers and other court managers received special training in this area of need, helping staff and collateral justice agencies to become more responsive to the unique needs of female offenders.

SCHOOL BASED PROBATION

The School Based Probation program began in 2004 through a Bureau of Justice Assistance grant. The first probation officers, known as School Based Liaisons (SBL's) began supervision of youth attending Glenville and John Marshall High Schools, sharing information with school and law enforcement officials.

Due to the success of the program, funding was continued through Reclaim Ohio. Probationers are seen daily. The goal is to increase parental involvement, reduce recidivism and truancy and to assist youth in developing positive social skills.

The program has expanded to include School Based Liaisons in East High, and Martin Luther King Jr. schools.

COURT SERVICES

The Court Services Department is responsible for all of the legal and clerking functions and services necessary to ensure that the court hearing process is executed in a timely, comprehensive, and efficient manner.

In addition to the six elected Judges to whom all of the cases filed with Court are assigned, there are twenty-four full time magistrates. Together, the jurists and magistrates resolve the delinquency, unruly, juvenile traffic, custody, support, visitation, dependency, abuse, neglect, parent-child relationship, and waiver of parental notification matters that are filed with the Court.

INTAKE

Intake receives referrals from law enforcement, parents, citizens, agencies, etc. and reviews them to determine probable cause and jurisdiction of alleged delinquent and/or unruly acts. Intake officers are responsible for making appropriate determinations to officially file or divert cases and prepare and process complaints. Intake officers also hold mediation hearings and informal hearings to resolve bypassed matters.

The Courts' Unruly Diversion Program was expanded in 2006 to include three distinct components of service. The first includes family and individual assessment to aid in determining the needs of each youth referred. The second involves an array of services for low/medium risk youth, latency age children and those with truancy issues. The final part of the continuum includes assistance for high risk juveniles and gender specific programming.

COMMUNITY DIVERSION PROGRAM (CDP)

Commenced in 1998, this community based sanction program diverts first time misdemeanor and status offenders from official court action. The Program permits communities to tailor treatment and penalties to fit the needs of the individual juvenile and the safety concerns of the community, as well as offering youth the opportunity to avoid an official juvenile court record. The main goal of the CDP is to make a juvenile's first offense, his last. The program is designed to decrease negative conduct and promote positive behaviors.

The Court refers eligible candidates for diversion to the appropriate CDP. There are now forty-nine programs serving fifty-two communities in Cuyahoga County.

COURT SERVICES

CLERK'S OFFICE

This office is responsible for the preservation and maintenance of all documents filed in every action or proceeding initiated in Juvenile Court. The office of the Clerk accepts motions and pleadings for filing, records the fact of the filing, completes service of process, and submits the filing to the assigned jurist for resolution of the issues.

More than 378,000 legal files were scanned in 2006 producing 6.6 million images and 186 gigabytes of data. The data is now stored on a server instead of on shelving in file rooms. This was a first step to make court files immediately available electronically to all within Juvenile Court as part of the new case management system.

DELINQUENCY AND FAMILY DRUG COURTS

The Delinquency Drug Court is a voluntary program for non-violent youth who have substance abuse issues. The Delinquency Drug Court requires participants to attend regularly scheduled court hearings, meet with a case manager multiple times a week, and submit to random drug screens. Participants are also required to attend treatment. A series of rewards and sanctions are utilized as juveniles move through the multiple phases of the program.

This year the Delinquency Drug Court added new services for youth exhibiting mental health as well as substance abuse disorders. The services include assessment, short term family therapy and long term mental health case planning options.

The Family Drug Court operates similarly to the Delinquency Drug Court but the participants are parents whose children are alleged to be abused, neglected or dependent and who are at risk of losing custody of their children because of drug dependency. This intensive program is designed to reduce the time that a child may have to spend in placement while the parent receives treatment for their substance abuse addiction.

Construction began this year on a new courtroom designated for the Drug Courts clients. It is designed to accommodate the large number of juveniles, parents, and families that attend hearings together daily, and to meet all Americans with Disabilities Act requirements.

COURT SERVICES

INFORMATION SERVICES (IS)

Over 600 case management information system users are provided training, direct desktop, and network support by IS staff. They also produce standard and ad hoc data and statistical reports.

In 2006, an information system consulting firm was hired to assist the Court in building a new state-of-the art case management system. Development was started in early August. As currently designed, the new system will be accessible via the internet and will eventually support a totally paperless Court environment. Every paper document submitted will be scanned and viewable via a document management system. Testing on the new system has begun and it is targeted to “go live” in the fall of 2007.

LEGAL

Staff attorneys respond to legal research inquiries from the bench and Court administration, update and educate staff on statutory changes, and assist with public records requests.

The educational liaison serves as a resource for jurists and court staff regarding Ohio school law, Federal special education law, and other educational matters. The liaison also works to develop and implement innovative educational programs. A project entitled the Educational Disability Protocol continued this year. It provides screening for learning and developmental disabilities to juveniles admitted to the Detention Center. The appropriate referrals are made to school districts for further evaluation, diagnosis and treatment. 114 residents were tested in 2006 and 71% were found to exhibit some degree of a learning disability.

DIAGNOSTIC CLINIC

The Clinic’s psychologists perform high quality forensic mental health evaluations on youth and/or families who have various matters pending before the Court. Fourteen clinicians and numerous interns and fellows completed over six hundred evaluations this year. Clinic staff were instrumental in working with the Ohio Supreme Court in developing legislative guidelines regarding juvenile competency.

DETENTION CENTER

Detention Services manages the care of all juveniles in the secure detention continuum, including the Detention Center, Shelter Care and Home Detention. During the year 2006, the Detention Center held an average of 144 juveniles, Shelter Care served an average of 54 juveniles, and Home Detention monitored an average of 121 juveniles per day.

LIVING UNITS

The Detention Center residents continue to score their quality of life as very good, based on the Social Climate survey conducted twice each year. These scores reflect a continued commitment to program improvements, including the amount of time social workers spend with residents and numerous volunteer activities.

Community volunteers provide life skills, substance abuse awareness, health and hygiene counseling, anger management and conflict resolution programming to residents.

This year, the Jewish Community Federation established an after-school tutoring program to help residents improve their math skills. The Cleveland Treatment Project Safe (Stay Aids Free through Education) volunteered it's time to provide HIV education and awareness to residents. Nurses from Ursuline College provided services to our residents on healthcare education and physical fitness. John Carroll University continues to provide a tutoring program to the residents.

The Murtis H. Taylor Multi-Service Center has included the Detention Center as part of a grant to provide Pre-GED and remedial education for residents returning to the community. The Cleveland Public Library has loaned over 500 books for a resident library. Future plans include a new distance learning program with the Cleveland Art Museum.

HB 400 PROGRAMMING

Under HB 400, Ohio Law permits juvenile courts to commit juveniles to a detention facility for up to 90 days as a disposition. The Detention Center housed approximately 180 new HB 400 commitments in 2006. Our goal is to help these residents become more productive citizens when released to the community. Trained staff, volunteers and student interns facilitate a variety of programming groups. Residents have benefited from these daily groups which address issues in the areas of youth violence, chemical dependency awareness, job readiness and life skills.

EDUCATIONAL SERVICES

The Juvenile Detention Center houses a school within the Cleveland Municipal School District, named the "Downtown Educational Center." The School District provides a principal and teachers and residents receive school credits for academic work completed. In 2006, a physical education teacher and school guidance counselor were added to the staff.

DETENTION CENTER

STAFF TRAINING

All Juvenile Detention employees receive 18 hours of Core Competency Training annually that includes cardio-pulmonary resuscitation and automatic external defibrillator training, standard first aid, blood-borne pathogens and communicable disease training, emergency response training (suicide prevention and intervention), and crisis prevention institute verbal de-escalation and unarmed self-defense training.

This year, a Training library was established for Detention staff. The county e-mail communication system has been updated to include all Detention Center Staff.

FACILITY SAFETY

The Detention Center kitchen recently upgraded from a dry to a wet system for fire suppression. In the event of disaster, requiring building evacuation, the Sheriff's Office and the Ohio Department of Youth Services have updated written agreements to house Juvenile Detention residents.

POPULATION CONTROL

In order to control overpopulation, Detention Admission Screening Officers screen all juveniles arrested by law enforcement for admission to secure detention using a validated Detention Admission Screening Instrument (DASI).

Home Detention has increased its capacity to serve juveniles placed on electronic monitoring. New technology allows the electronic monitoring base unit to be plugged into any home outlet, thereby increasing ways to monitor the juvenile's activities. Although landlines are still being used, this new technology provides the opportunity to monitor a broader population who do not have landlines. Planned improvements include immediate notification of violations from the vendor and 24-hour staff monitoring.

ACCREDITATION

The American Correctional Association conducted an audit of the Juvenile Detention Center in September 2006. Based on the findings, the Commission on Accreditation for Corrections has awarded full accreditation to the Cuyahoga County Juvenile Detention Center for a period of three-years. These standards address services, programs, and operations essential to the effective correctional management.

OHIO DEPARTMENT OF YOUTH SERVICES 2006 ADMISSIONS

The Year in Review: In 2006, the Cuyahoga County Juvenile Court admitted 282 juveniles (245 delinquencies and 37 revocations) to the Ohio Department of Youth Services (ODYS). Among the delinquency charges, robbery offenses accounted for the highest number of admissions, followed by assault and burglary. The three offense types accounted for 53.3% of all delinquency admissions. The 282 juveniles admitted to ODYS in 2006 represent a 7.2% decrease from 2005.
